

Figure 1: Photograph to crop sub-images from.

To test the diffeomorphism learning agent I generated pair of images by cropping pair small images from a larger image. I used two different images to crop sub-images from, one photograph Figure 1 and one randomly generated image where all pixels in the image most likely has different values Figure 2.

0.1 Result

Figure 2: Random image to crop sub-images from.

